Internship Programme and Volunteers

UNESCO New Delhi offers on-the-job training opportunities for graduate and post-graduate students to enhance their academic experience through practical work assignments (internship programme). We also offer non-students the opportunities to support the work of the Organization on a voluntary basis (volunteer programme).

The standard duration of internship is four months with a minimum duration being three months and maximum duration being six months. Internships are normally on a full-time basis although assignments may be carried out on a part-time basis upon mutual agreement.

The duration of a volunteer assignment is more flexible with the maximum duration of six months. Both interns and volunteers are incorporated in the work as team members under the supervision of Sector Chiefs or Programme Specialists.

Interns should be enrolled in a post-graduate or graduate degree programme; in case of volunteers, they should have completed a graduate or post-graduate degree programme in a field relevant to areas of competence of UNESCO.

Please be advised that internship/volunteer assignments are undertaken on a voluntary basis and thus unpaid. UNESCO does not cover any costs of their travels, visas, insurances, vaccinations or living expenses.
